

NOMAN SWINDLER WILL BE DEPORTED

Immigrant Officials Decide to Send Caroline Fischer
Back to Europe.

The Board of Special Inquiry at Ellis Island decided today to deport the mysterious Miss Caroline Fischer, the Casle Chidwick, and her party, who arrived on the German liner Lloyd last Wednesday. She was the first woman to be deported from the island.

This remarkable Englishwoman did not seem in the least moved over the announcement of the Board's decision. She slept late in the morning and dressed with her usual care. Her only anxiety seemed to be over her three German cats. She feared they would not be allowed to accompany her. The cats are beautiful, fawn colored animals. Miss Fischer says that they are descended from a prize cat owned by the King of Spain.

Miss Fischer supplemented her already amazing story today by declaring that she lost a fortune of $50,000 pounds or $100,000 through dealings she had with money lenders. This put her up against it and she began her astonishing series of swindles.

Thus far the Fischer woman has admitted only two crimes—first, that she swindled a Mr. Bom, proprietor of the Park Hotel, near Lucerne, Switzerland, out of $4,000 by means of a bad check, and second, that she insured her life for between $30,000 and $35,000, "died" in Europe and came back to life here, thereby hoping to swindle the insurance company.

"There is more behind all this," Commissioner Watchorn said today, just before calling the woman before him. "There is something that she is concealing from me."

"I honestly believe this woman is another Casle Chidwick; that she has lived all her life by swindling people on the Continent. She may be crazy and the great insurance plot just one of her hallucinations. She told me that she had sent in advance $20,000 to the Hotel Astor, and then admitted that the story was a fabrication. I am convinced that she has told me many lies. The Chancellor of the Swiss Consulate says that she is the worst swindler in all Europe, and I guess he knows."

Spent Money Lavishly.

David Hertzman, the Swiss Consul, of No. 15 Exchange place, said today that he had learned from his home office that Miss Fischer travelled through Europe like a princess. She had two automobiles and in a couple of months ran up a bill of $4,000 in the Park Hotel. She had a magnificent wardrobe and handsome jewelry. She tipped the hotel servants as if she had millions at her command. The general belief in the hotels where she stopped was that she was a titled Englishwoman of unlimited means.

$3,000 IN JEWELS LEAKED FROM PURSE.

Woman Shopper Loses Gems Along
Streets During Her Tour of Purchasing.

Oblivious of a hole in her purse, Mrs. Colwell, of Stamford, Conn., left the Gregorian Hotel, in West Thirty-fifth street, where she is stopping, to go on a shopping tour last Wednesday. In the purse, when she started, were about $3,000 worth of jewels, which she scattered in her progress along the street.

Among the jewels lying in the mud of the streets or carelessly treasured in some finder's pocket, are an emerald and pearl necklace, a diamond crescent and a diamond comet.

Not until she had returned to Stamford did Mrs. Colwell notice that her hand-bag had a hole in it and, of course, she had no idea at what point the jewels left her possession.

The police at Headquarters were notified and the pawnshops are being watched.
